Skyfire

[Music: Hanner / Lyrics Wenngrenn]The silence ends with a thunderclap
The sky turns black again
A roar from the sky
Makes the silence feel so wonderful My eyes are open again
I can't see more than unclear (shadows)
Shadows that seem to follow my path
Lightning burn my eyesA slumber, a silent and deeper sleep
The smell of rain
Burned by the lightning within Unknown is this painThe clouds lie silent like a cage around what used to be
I can not reach the other side and you can not reach me
The clouds lie silence like a cage
around what used to be Stuck within this cube for all time, from this place I can not fleeThe whispers make me insane
I can not shut them out
No longer in control of my body
I close my eyes, dreams emerge
A new thunderclap awakens my mind
It is all like it used to be
I am trapped within my own imagination
Who has got the key to the gate?A slumber, a silent and deeper sleep
The smell of rain
Burned by the lightning within
Unknown is this painThe clouds lie silent like a cage
around what used to be
you can not reach me
The clouds lie silence like a cage
around what used to be Stuck within this cube for all time, from this place I can not fleeSlowly the clouds loosen their grip
I can see the other side
My dream end as many times before Alone I stand again...A slumber, a silent and deeper sleep
The smell of rain

Burned by the lightning within
Unknown is this painThe clouds lie silent like a cage
around what used to be
you can not reach me
The clouds lie silence like a cage
around what used to be Stuck within this cube for all time,
from this place I can not flee
