Quantec

This union with creation is a brilliant coronet
What I cannot gain by knowledge, I infect, as I possess
Put into perspective as I walk up the facade
Instead of sinking, it's got me thinking How could I be wrong when I am right?
I'll never know We hear the truth and turn away
Our ears are burning every day
The quandary is the elucidation oh, oh With sightless faith, small steps, and pride
Let that suffice, no longer a spark, it's gone ablaze, before our eyes
The whole earth trembles at his name in fear and awe
Instead of blinking, it's got me thinking How could I be wrong when I am right?
I'll never know We learn to sacrifice, we learn to take a life
We take and we don't give, live how we want to live
And no one wants to lie but we all have to lie
Yeah, no one wants to lie, relax, then die We hear the truth and turn away
Our ears are burning every day
The quandary is the elucidation oh, oh How could I be wrong when I am right?
I'll never know
