Event Horizon

The Neologist

On the edge of existence
Time stands still
Life and death are one and the same
Here we are free
I can be without shameHere on the event horizon
The grasp of humanity extinct
Thoughts of good and evil
No one can shunThe atomic clock stands still
Particles of essence are lost in the chaos
Every form left in its pure
Reality ceases to be realThe existence of its nature
Called into question
Denied and accepted
By all the heathens
This is meant to beHere on the event horizon
The grasp of humanity extinct
Thoughts of good and evil
No one can shunThe atomic clock stands still
Particles of essence are lost in the chaos
Reality ceases to be realEvery form left in its pure
Reality ceases to be real
