

Better Or Worse

Richard Marx

we've been down this road before lost the key that fits the door believing it was finally gone for good here we are, the perfect pair in a state of disrepair saying all the things we swore we never would and the words that mean the most hang between us like a ghostleft unspoken but i, i
i'm gonna love you even when it hurts yeah, i, i
i'm gonna love you
for better or worse everywhere i look around it seems when things break down it's easier to just throw them away but a promise left to die can sometimes still surprise and start breathing in the morning's light of day and the hearts that learn to bend are t he only ones who mend when they're broken

chorus
and i haven't got a clue baby, any more than you where we're goin'
chorus
