

Chasing the Moon

Mary Lambert

We went out to the city in your friend's Chevy
You and me stumbled in the backseat ready
Laughing at the top of my lungs
Said I'll never get old
I'll never get old We got lost on our way home from the city
All the lights had us thinking we were infinitely
Bigger, brighter, bolder, ready
Said I'll never get old
I'll never get old Chasing the moon when I was on your front porch
All the days felt like chasing the sunrise into the morning
Feels like I'm
Chasing the moon
Chasing the moon I got caught hiding bottles in my bedroom
Kelsey laughed, she said "you never learn, do you?"
Every night had me hanging on the thrill of it
Sneaking out my house, waiting for your kiss None of us ever felt beautiful
Telling secrets in the backseat confessional
Couldn't understand the meaning of our glory days
But we'll never get old
We'll never get old Chasing the moon when I was on your front porch
All the days felt like chasing the sunrise into the morning
Feels like I'm Run, run, run as fast as we can (fast as we can)
Run, run, run and never look back (never look back)
Run, run, run as fast as we can (fast as we can)
Run, run, run and never look back
Chasing the moon
Chasing the moon
Chasing the moon
Chasing the moon
