

Where Were You

The Mend

Had your number on speed dial
You never answered when I reached out
I looked left (see I looked to the left)
I looked right (and to the right)
But you weren't there
Where the hell, where the hell were you?

24/7 you'd be there for me
No matter what happened, you'd care for me
I looked up (see I looked to the sky)
I looked down (and to the ground)
But you weren't there
Where the hell, where the hell were you?

Oh, am I missing something?
Is the network down
In your part of town?
(We couldn't get through to ya)
You didn't hear the phone ring
Cause you're in a crowd
And you're busy now

Where were you in the middle when this all went down?
Where were you at the bitter end?
(You said you'd be there)
You're a fair-weather lover, that I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend?
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
(You said you'd be there)
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
(3, 2, 1)

Look, see I know what you run
But don't think you can come and go when you want
Cause one minute you was here, one minute you was there
But then the next minute you were gone (gone)
Please, I see you in it for the bling
You in it for the money, in it for the cha ching
Sorry babe, but I ain't giving you a ring

In fact I ain't giving you a thing, where you've been

Am I loosing my mind?
Say you're ill in bed, huh
Not what your Facebook said
(Said we seen that)
Am I wasting my time?
If you're really gone, why am I holding on

Where were you in the middle when this all went down?
Where were you at the bitter end?
(You said you'd be there)
You're a fair-weather lover, that I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
(Where were you?)
Where the hell, where the hell were you?

Am I missing something?
Is the network down
In your part of town?
(We couldn't get through to ya)
You didn't hear the phone ring
Cause you're in a crowd
And you're busy now

Where were you in the middle when it all went down?
Where were you at the bitter end?
(You said you'd be there)
You're a fair-weather lover, that I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend?
(I'm gonna find you anyway)
All the lights, all the promises and all the love
All the money and the time that I spend
You're a fair-weather lover, yes I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend?
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
Come and see me baby
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
Come on and tell me baby
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
Where the hell, where the hell were you?
