WALK THE MOON

eighteen thousand year old soul midwest shooting star in the days she waits, but she moonlights rock n roll playing a rain dance with her guitarsometimes you only get one chanceyou got a look in your eyes (your eyes) I knew you in a past life one glance and the AVALANCHE drops one look and my heartbeat stops ships pass in the nightI don't wanna wait till the next life one glance and the AVALANCHE drops one look and my heartbeat stopslast call and everybody's watching her voice rings out like a storm sometimes the past echoes in the future started long before we were bornsometimes you only get one chanceyou got a look in your eyes (your eyes)
I knew you in a past life
one glance and the AVALANCHE drops one look and my heartbeat stopsships pass in the night I don't wanna wait til the next life one glance and the AVALANCHE drops one look and my heartbeat stopshey - don't wait - the universe won't wait for you wait - don't wait - it's do or die, what're you gonna chooselyou got a look in your eyes (your eyes)
I knew you in a past life
one glance and the AVALANCHE drops
