'57 Chevrolet

Billie Jo Spears

Come and look at this old faded photograph.
Honey, tell me what it brings to mind.
It's a picture of that '57 Chevrolet.
I wish that we could ride it one more time.

I still get excited when I think about,
The drive-in picture shows you took me to.
But I don't recall a lot about the movie stars:
Mostly that old Chevrolet and you

They don't make cars like they used to.
I wish we still had it today.
The love we first tasted,
The good love we're still living:
We owe it to that old '57 Chevrolet.

Remember when we used to park it in the lane,
And listen to the country radio?
We'd hold on to each other while the singer sang,
And we'd stay like that 'til it was time to go

Now it makes me sad to think the good old days are gone,
Although our love is still as strong today.
But the world would have a lot more lovers hanging on,
If they still made '57 Chevrolets.

They don't make cars like they used to.
I wish we still had it today.
The love we first tasted,
The good love we're still living:
We owe it to that old '57 Chevrolet.

We owe it to that old '57 Chevrolet

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com
written by BOWLING
Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/