

Revelation Blues

Bap Kennedy

I see trouble comin' down the road
I see trouble comin' down the road
What will be will be it's got nothin' to do with me
I see trouble comin' down the road
I've got a feelin' somethin's not right
I've got a feelin' somethin's not right
Somewhere way down deep I can't get to sleep
I've got a feeling somethin's not right
I've got a heartache that won't go away
I've got a heartache that won't go away
There is no medicine for the trouble that I'm in
I've got a heartache that won't go away
I'm waiting for the revelation
I'm waiting for the storm to break
And I know that day is coming
But all I can do is wait
Until it's my turn to see the light
Until it's my turn to see the light
I used to recommend a little poison now and then
Til it was my turn to see the light
And now the dark clouds are rolling in
And now the dark clouds are rolling in
There's an evil breeze movin' through the trees
And now those dark clouds are movin' in
I'm waiting for the revelation
I'm waiting for the storm to break
And I know the day is coming
But all I can do is wait
I see an angel coming down the road
I see an angel coming down the road
He came this way before this time he's coming with a sword
I see an angel coming down the road
I'm waiting for the revelation
I'm waiting for the storm to break
And I know the day is coming
But all I can do is wait
I'm waiting for the revelation
I'm waiting for that storm to break
And I know the day is coming

But all I can do is wait
