Wrong Again

Bil Bless

From the day we met
You made me forget
All my fears
Knew just what to say
And you kissed away
All my tearsI knew this time I had finally found
Someone to build my life around
Be a lover and a friendAfter all my heart had put me through
I knew that it was safe with you
And what we had would never end
Wrong againEverybody swore
They'd seen this before
We'd be fine
And you'd come to see
That you still loved me
In good timeAnd they said there's nothing you can do
It's something that he's going through
It happens to a lot of menAnd I told myself that they were right
That you'd wake up and see the light
And I just had to wait till then
Wrong againAnd it seemed to me the pain would last
My chance for happiness had passed
And nothing waited 'round the bendI was sure I'd never find someone
To heal the damage you had done
My poor heart would never mend
Wrong again, wrong again
