He Said, She Said

Sunshine Anderson

I've had it up to here
Somebody gon' make me lose mind up in here
Going around gossiping, spreading lies
And rumors that I'm seeing someone on the side
Don't you let 'em fill your head with all that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Trust your heart instead, never mind that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Some people run their mouth
'Cause they don't have nothing better to talk about
Baby, you misery loves company
And us breaking up is what they want to see
Don't let them fill your head up with all that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Trust your heart instead, never mind that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that

Don't let them fill your head up with all that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Trust your heart instead, never mind that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Don't believe everything you hear
'Cause they don't want to see us together
No they don't, no they don't
Don't you let 'em fill your head up with all that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Trust your heart instead, never mind that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Don't you let 'em fill your head up with all that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
Trust your heart instead, never mind that
He said, she said, 'cause you know me better than that
