

Missing Man

Julia Fordham

Yet another day slides into midnight
From your camp there's not a single word
Seemingly you have forgotten
I'm still your girl People tell me I am strong
I might have to prove them wrong
As the cracks begin to show
I'm trying to find the strength to let you go
Missing man Hope turned out to be a dangerous lesson
Faith, a shallow river in disguise
Running through my patient spirit
Drowning my pride Missing man
Missing man
Do you miss me?
Missing man
