These Arms

Girlicious

It was perfect before I opened the door
And let all the walls fall on me
Should've known what you was holding in store
You showed me sweetness's, you played on my weaknesses, baby
I've seen this before
In a movie, for sure and I know how it ends
I'm just trying to pretend that the story has changed
And the scripts rearranged,
It's obviously not what I want to be
Now that my minds forgotten you, my eyes ain't eyeing you
And I ain't trying to, I-I can't help it
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you go
(These arms won't let you go, these arms will not let you go)
(These arms won't let you go, these arms will not let you go)
I let you into my life, I thought you was right
I thought you were worth it, worth it
But I should've known, mama warned 'bout your type
Oh, cause I all the signs, I wish that I could rewind it
I've seen this before
In a movie, for sure and I know how it ends

I'm just trying to pretend that the story has changed
And the scripts rearranged,
It's obviously not what I want to be
Now that my minds forgotten you, my eyes ain't eyeing you
And I ain't trying to, I-I can't help it
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you go
(These arms won't let you go, these arms will not let you go)
(These arms won't let you go, these arms will not let you go)
I don't even feel it, don't think that I need it
I thought I could let you go, oh
And now I'm struggling to leave it, fingers won't release it
I just need to let you know, oh
That my minds forgotten you, my eyes ain't eyeing you
And I ain't trying to, I-I can't help it
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you go

Now that my minds forgotten you, my eyes ain't eyeing you
And I ain't trying to, I-I can't help it
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you
These arms, these arms, these arms will not let you go
