Hooray For Earth

Know that it's me at the door, before you answer
Know that it's me from a creak in the floor, before you answer. Everything aligns for you and I cross way
Changing our lives, fortune flies
Don't put them over her Know that it's me at the door, before you answer.
Jangling keys and a creak in the floor, before you answer Everything aligns for you and I cross way
Changing our lives, fortune flies
Don't put them over her
Same as before, call the nights cross way and everything aligns for you and I Wake up, wake up Don't really think it's a home, only affluence
No, I don't really think it's a home. Everything aligns for you and I cross way
Changing our lives, fortune flies
Don't put them over her
Same as before, call the nights cross way and everything aligns for you and I
