

Shadows and Dust

Arch Enemy

At the mercy of our conscience
Confined within our fate
Never really questioned why
We are refugees in a dying world To become a part of the end Are we the ones, the ones to blame?
We are mortals of shadows and dust The sun sets on our sinking ship of fools
On our journey into oblivion
We ask ourselves again and again
Now will we be remembered
