Phenomenon

Psordid

See all the faces and hear all the screaming
Smell the stench of hair and flesh burning
Discover the hell that was created on earth
And pray to the child that was evil from birth

Destruction and pain is what now surrounds us
Wishing for death and running for cover
Bodies are torn by the hands of demons
Souls in torment by the gaze of Lucifer

Stronger than God
They seem
Stronger than God

Immune to damage, impervious to pain
Immortal to man, no scars they bare
Mercy to mankind they refuse to show
Release from the abyss has been denied

With whips they strike, with guns they blast
Ripping and tearing, make the pain last
Consuming life, demolition of souls
Firmin their mission, resolute in their goals

Stronger than God
They seem
Stronger than God

Fire from their mouths
Hate from their eyes
Evil, it dwells
Yet we know it not
Spreading the terror
And feeding the lies
He that follows
Eventually dies
