

Nobody Girl

Ryan Adams

Well, the night makes moves and she shatters like broken glass
Better play it cool, better let it pass
Have you been screening your smokes?
And whispers in an all night bar
Better off as the fool than the owner of that kind of heart
They don't know you anyway
They don't know you
And they don't watch you walk away
Just a nobody girl with a radar to the scene
When the emptiness finds you, you find all the numbers you need
Say you follow your heart well, honey, you're just being lost
You could follow your gut but how much would it cost?
They don't know you anyway
They don't know you
They don't watch you walk away
You're nobody, girl
You're nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
The night plays games and the people, they come and go
Well, they trade in their pieces for a late-night ride on your rodeo
If your horses could talk, I wonder if they would complain
I know you're rested and ready, they've been going nowhere for days
They don't know you anyway
They don't know you
They don't even mind the weight
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
Nobody, girl
Nobody, girl
You're nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl
You're a nobody, girl

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>