This Year I've Had Enough

Moneen

staring at the sun, wondering what I've done wrong.
after all this time it still carries on,
after everything is on and gone,
I'm just waiting for that one day,
and all this happened in one day.
It's easier not so easy.
and it all just fades to grey.
try and close my eyes
I find too many times trapped inside my mind, thoughts of running out and away seem to stay,
but in a different way,
it's easier not so easy.
it all just fades away.
and all this happened in one day and it all just fades away, I'm trapped inside my haze,
waiting for the day...
we shed tears for lives we don't even know.
we spent two years too long fighting the wrong things.
