

Fallen Star

Hanoi Rocks

I've been drinkin' quite a lot lately
Been thinkin' of the times when you made a star
Times do change and we must rearrange our lives with it I'd like to send you a postcard but still
Don't know your address, don't remember your name
It's funny how your face is still in my eyes, hidden by a tear I do believe in that one day you'll rise again
I'll always keep on believing, it gives me strength to carry on Without love the dark night's a million miles away
