Killing a Camera

Braid

got caught kicking the canvas down i had plans but they never seemed to work out wide-eyed and on the lookout got caught tearing the whole thing down i was halfway done but then you know this painted scene could never leave me oh please believe mecaught killing a camera now it seems calming and clear to hire a cast of kittens, the cats we've been kissing for the cameras we're lowering here got caught tearing the whole thing down i was halway done but then we sang it for memphis the new slang in frame and canvas just for the cameraswhen we are awake we sing "never... ever" this is where you must make up your mind should beauty be design this time? this time you decide cause we go with whatever we take our timegot a cough my throat kills from singing my ears are ringing the stage is slowly sinking and we're all thinking the same thing let's not settle for satisfaction we are women and men of action let's stop clapping let's start doing a dream for the teens and in-betweens and twenties yet unseen.
