Angels Are Hard to Find

Hank Williams, Jr.

Lord I'm singing You this message up to Heaven
Asking you to send me down another angel
I've been looking for a long time for someone to get her off my mind
But you know Lord, angels are hard to findI want an angel with arms and not with wings
Someone that I can call my darling
If You can think of someone to fit that description
Lord could You help me one more time?
But I know Lord, angels are hard to findIt's my fault I lost the first one You sent to me
I didn't know 'til she was gone how much she meant to me
She loved me but I was blind, I bet I do a whole lot better next time
But I know Lord, angels are hard to findI want an angel with arms and not with wings
Someone that I can call darling
If You can think of someone to fit my description
Lord, could You help ole Hank one more time?
But I know Lord, yeah angels are hard to find
One like that right there Lord, angels are hard to find
