

Shivers

Causeries

Down on the canvas with the sole of my shoe treading air as if there was something I could do I thought I was closing in on a rabbit I chased since I was small and I couldn't bear to let go oh, oh, oh oh oh I feel my strength and the air in my lungs trickle out in various inaudible sounds Almost within the grasp of my hand I should've left you alone but I didn't stand the thought No I couldn't let you go once more we are only everything that we ever said that we ever said we was Oh once more
that we ever said we was
