Buzzstyle (find My Way)

Bellefire

She's got the world wrapped around her little finger,
He's got the power to define his destination,
They've got the fire that they need to make it happen,
To make their mark on life.
We could play it safe slowly going nowhere,
We can break the chain of fear and indecision,
Gotta learn to listen, to our own ambition
So make the choice, it's in your hands.
Don't tell me
What I should be thinking
My thoughts don't come from you
I need you, you know I really love you
Though I might not do exactly what you say-
Cos I must find my own way
She believes that her heart won't tell her lies,
See the passion thats shining in his eyes,
In their hearts they have succeeded and survived,
All because they've tried.
Now that I must build my dreams alone,
I'm gonna lay my own foundation stone by stone
Gotta learn to listen, to my own ambition,
And make the choice it's in my hands.

Don't tell me
What I should be thinking
My thoughts don't come from you
I need you, you know I really love you
Though I might not do exactly what you say-
Cos I must find my own way
The sun is rising I feel it inside of me,
Higher and higher inspiring and true,
I close my eyes I'm feeling so warm and free,
I'll find my way, I'll prove it to you.
Don't tell me
What I should be thinking
My thoughts don't come from you
I need you, you know I really love you
Though I might not do exactly what you say-
Cos I must find my own way

Don't tell me
What I should be thinking
My thoughts don't come from you
I need you, you know I really love you
Though I might not do exactly what you say-
Cos I must find my own way
