

Andi

Kansas

Andi won't dance, Andi won't sing, Andi won't play
She sits in her room hiding away, hiding away
She hasn't a friend, they think she's a boy, they leave her alone
But what they don't know, Andi has dreams, all of her own
Yea, she wants to be a lady, can anyone just see?
That's she's trapped inside a little boy's body
She's waiting for the dream of her life
To be a lady, that's all she wants to be
Andi you're not just anyone, don't be ashamed
Open the door, don't hide away, your dreams will awaken
Andi you're not just anyone, don't take the blame
Though you're scared and all alone, you'll be there someday
Oh Andi, you're old enough to know, don't ask me
why
The leaves they fall down from the trees
But in the spring, they come again, yes, they come again
Oh Andi, don't be afraid, oh Andi
Andi can you hear me? Will you come out on your own?
Oh there's a voice in the distance saying don't be afraid, Andi
I will make you somebody, I will make you a lady
The dream of your life, a lady, is what you will be
Andi you're not just anyone, don't be ashamed
Open the door, don't hide away, your dreams will awaken
Andi you're not just anyone, don't take the blame
Though you're scared and all alone, you'll be there someday
Oh you'll be there someday
Oh Andi, oh Andi, oh Andi, oh
