

Feeling This Way

Kris Allen

Some days I just feel like
I'm in the wrong place at the right time
And a long way to go to realize
I've been standing in the wrong line

Funny that you should ask how I'm doing
Cause today just seems like a fight
All the castles I made turned into ruins
Guess I built them too close to the tide

And it seems like every street light's turning red
And there's no right side of the bed
And this could all be in my head
But right now I'm wondering why why why

Some days I just feel like
I'm in the wrong place at the right time
And a long way to go to realize
I've been standing in the wrong line
Might not be okay, but I'm getting used to feeling this way
Might not be okay, but I'm getting used to feeling this way

I go right, maybe take a left
It doesn't matter, I move back with each step
I know you think that I'm crazy by now
But at least I know you know what I'm talking about

And it feels like there's a heartbeat in your chest
That doesn't line up with the rest
And this could all be in your head
But by now you're wondering why why why

Some days I just feel like
I'm in the wrong place at the right time
And a long way to go to realize
I've been standing in the wrong line
Might not be okay, but I'm getting used to feeling this way
Might not be okay, but I'm getting used to feeling this way

They say live for today, but I keep praying for tomorrow

And I'm all out of luck, so do you got some I can borrow?

Some days I just feel like
I'm in the wrong place at the right time
And a long way to go to realize
I've been standing in the wrong line
Might not be okay, but I'm getting used to feeling this way
Might not be okay, but I'm getting used to feeling this way
