Thy Guiding Light

Entwine

Wish I could always love you, always hold you, all the time Share with me the last moment, for I'll take you, to the skyyou always wanted to be the last one but you never thought what it would be like to be the only oneTo the sky I will reflect my love for it shal be thy guiding light Shine so bright that you will find your way through the darkness of the nightThrough the skies I will take you, find the time to touch the stars Falling dark leads you to me, whispers so sweet leave no scarsyou always wanted to be the last one
but you never thought what it would be like to be the only oneTo the sky I will reflect my love for it shall be thy guiding light Shine so bright the you will find your way through the darkness of the night
