Heavy Lifting

Carly Rae Jepsen

You undo me, I'm a happy mess, my dress slips to the floor
And I pose, what an amateur to be like this exposed
You deny the other side of me that strips good love away
And you kissed my mirror reflection when I looked at me today
When you look at me the way you do my fingers tingle
I can't breathe until we're skin on skin
When you look at me the way you do my life moves in perfect motion
You're doing all the heavy lifting
Worlds collide, I see a side of you I never saw before
We can work it out, let's talk it out, I want to know you more
Just decided that I'd like to side with you oh every time
And if you ask me how I'm feeling now, you know I'm feeling fine
When you look at me the way you do my fingers tingle
I can't breathe until we're skin on skin
When you look at me the way you do my life moves in perfect motion
You're doing all the heavy lifting
Oh, look at me the way you do, look at me the way you do
Look at me the way you do
Oh, look at me the way you do, look at me the way you do
Look at me, look at me the way you do
When you look at me the way you do my fingers tingle
I can't breathe until we're skin on skin
When you look at me the way you do my life moves in perfect motion
You're doing all the heavy lifting
Oh, look at me the way you do, look at me the way you do
Look at me, look at me the way you do
Oh, look at me the way you do, look at me the way you do
Look at me the way you do
When you look at me the way you do my
