

Where You Are

Whitney Houston

I saw the news this morning
Saw your face across the screen
And as I poured my coffee
I picked up a magazine But as I turned the page, and looked inside, there you were again
Oh, these lonely times, they never seem to end
You're too far
I know I should be there where you are Today I did some shopping
Just had to clear my mind again
(I can't stop thinkin' 'bout you)
I hopped into a taxi, seemed
In a moment I was home, home again But as I turned the page, and looked inside, there you were again
Oh, those feelings, not those feelings, not again
You're too far
I know I should be there where you are Tossing and turning in my sleep
I can't make it without you, now
I'm gonna take the next plane out
I got to get to where you are No matter how near or how far
Or then if you're a star
I know I should be there where you are But as I turned the page, and looked inside, there you were again
Oh, these lonely times, they never seem to end
You're too far
I know I should be there where you are
