

If You Could Hold Your Woman

Sarah Johns

If you could hold your woman
Like you hold your whiskey
I'd still be in your arms You come when you're lonely
And even then it's only
When you know the party's shuttin' down You bring up the old times
And you want to know why
We're not still together now It ain't that hard to figure out If you could hold your woman
Like you hold your whiskey
I'd still be in your arms If you're gonna fill your glass
And leave my heart empty
Then let ol' Jack Daniels keep you warm Thought if I loved you
It'd be enough to
Turn you around and keep you comin' home If there was a reason
To give in to weakness
You'd always find it for too long You know I need a man who's strong If you could hold your woman
Like you hold your whiskey
I'd still be in your arms If you're gonna fill your glass
And leave my heart empty
Then let ol' Jack Daniels keep you warm If you could hold your woman
Like you hold your whiskey
Then I'd still be in your arms
