

Stop!

Nowherebound

Stop!

So what's the point of this? You left before the goodbye kiss
(An Army of Two, now just an enemy to one)
Said it's all the yesterdays that hurt, today just isn't worth the words
(Let's blow this bridge, send it up in 3, 2, 1)

It never stops
Well I want off
Cause we got lost
The X now crossed.

I used to sing the blues, but you'd stir me up, remix the hues
(Until the colors just got dazed and confused)
So if we ever dance again, hope it's with Regina and a friend
(~til then it's just goodbye's, and I love you's)

It never stops
And She wants off
Now all is lost

Just give me everything, I'll eat the sin and set you free,
Free from your gilded cage,
I'll melt it down, appraise the weight
Sell off those yesterdays, the ones that took so much more than they gave
Just let it go. Just let me go
Stop!

Hope life still smiles upon you friend, leaves no regrets for ~might've been's.
(Said I'd love you big ~til you said, œStop.œ)
