No Body Else

Jean B. Gerbier

No body else
I
Sometimes I feel like taking a stroll to the nearest church, so I can see you once again. I wander, if I am still the brother you so admired, in the last past Sundays. Although you are happy today, love might be gone tomorrow.

Chorus
I wanna be kissed by you, no body else but you, I can feel the desire that makes you wanna be mine. I wanna be loved by you, nobody else but you, my kind of love is one way to Heaven.

II
Perhaps I can't solve the riddle know as breaking up. Rumors are flying, I am not denying, the assembly is sure that you are falling in love with me. All I know is that the rumors are true.
