Onirama

If you were here, otherwise would have been all
If you were here, perhaps I were stronger
If you were here, it is puzzling years
But there does not exist, there is nowhere

I grew up, I did not forget, words and songs
I wish genniomouna I like flowers
Without, and have no logical
As sun bloom every morning

If you were here, otherwise would have been all
If you were here, perhaps I were stronger
If you were here, it is puzzling years
But there does not exist, there is nowhere

Moments pass, moments that keep us
Blurry moments that have lost color and frayed
As summers passed and as a feast

If you were here, otherwise would have been all
If you were here, perhaps I were stronger
If you were here, it is puzzling years
But there does not exist, there is nowhere

The two bent my eyes, from the sweet nights

If you were here, otherwise would have been all
If you were here, perhaps I were stronger
If you were here, it is puzzling years
But there does not exist, there is nowhere
