St. George and the Dragon

Liable To Change

Can you tell me where I might find the Hydra?
Is he wearing a familiar face?
Does he still live below Seventh Avenue
With the princess dipped in lace?
Does he know that I'm a soldier of fortune
And not a victim of circumstance?
We drew lots for his soft underbelly
Now his fate is sealed with my lance
I can tell by the look in your eye
You've never seen the man with nothing to say
I can tell by the look in your eye
You'd better watch yourself, St. George is on his way
Is it true that he's a mighty warrior
And a viper of the first degree?
I've been sentenced here to slay the giant Geld this fear I cannot see
I can tell by the look in your eye
You've never seen the man with nothing to say
I can tell by the look in your eye

You'd better watch yourself, St. George is on his way
Can you tell me where I might find the Hydra?
Is he wearing a familiar face?
Does he still live below Seventh Avenue
In the slums of Satan's grace?
I can tell by the look in your eye
You've never seen the man with nothing to say
I can tell by the look in your eye
You'd better watch yourself, St. George is on his way
I can tell by the look in your eye
You've never seen the man with nothing to say
I can tell by the look in your eye
You'd better watch yourself, St. George is on his way
I can tell by the, I can tell by the
I can tell by the, I can tell by the
I can tell by the, I can tell by the
I can tell by the look in your eye

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/