Vedamalady

Mars Volta

Here it comes again
Mesh of arms travels up my neckMorning dawn declares itself
And mirrors stare back at my reflectionWhen I'm alone, I'm alone at night
I want winter to fall on meAnd I'm alone, I'm alone in flight
I am free of equityWhere did I go wrong?
I've got a sneaking suspicion that I'm underA kindred connivance
I'm ripped and in ruinsHere it comes again
Malady of Veda in your ears
Flood the droughts that those...
I can't stop myself becauseWhen I'm alone, I'm alone at night
I will set my father freeAnd I'm alone, I'm alone in flight
My mother holds the lock and keyWhere did I go wrong?
I've got a sneaking suspicion it ain't overA kindred connivance
I'm ripped and in ruinsLong way patience to drown
With friends that you won't save for meLong way patience to drown
Spin through my spiral, I danced with delayLong way patience to drown
You call me, I answer and all I can do is obey
Long way patience to drown
I can't hold my breath for this longWhen I'm alone, I'm alone at night
I wanna set my father freeAnd I'm alone, I'm alone in flight
My mother holds the lock and keyWhere did I go wrong?
I've got a sneaking suspicion it ain't overI won't let you, I won't let them
Set me to repeat
