Love, Hate, & Everything In Between

Rose Cora Perry

I hold my breathe and close my eyes
Hold back the tears from the skies
I love you more than youâ€™ll ever know

I stay awake in my bed at night
Stare at the walls and the windows sigh
I canâ€™t get you off of my mind

And when you look at me
And when youâ€™re kissing me
Oh you make me feel
Love, hate and everything

My blanketâ€™s torn
My feelings are bare
You can spell it out in the cold air
How is it that you cannot see what it is you mean to me?

The morningâ€™s raw, canâ€™t climb out of bed
Donâ€™t wanna think about what I just said
I put my heart there on the table

And the moon shone
You saw me clear
In the night sky as I stood bare
You realized I am everything you ever wanted everything youâ€™ve ever dreamed of everything youâ€™ll ever ask for is what you see in me
