Burial

Seinabo Sey

Flowers cross the sea
Memories aren't what they used to be
Something in the breeze
High and low, always incomplete
Fire burns my back
They stare, I don't know how to react
Try smiling for them to see
That I'm happy you are freeI hear you speak to me
As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveI hear you speak to me
As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveStone rise, curtain falls
I am sure that you've seen it all
Christ, you're in for harmony
Clouds they turn, feel you call for me
Fire burns my back
I'm ashamed I ever thought you were mine
Try smiling for them to see
That I'm happy you are freeI hear you speak to me
As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveI hear you speak to me
As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveThey speak of Grace
They speak of a better place
They speak of kingdoms
Kingdoms and how they come
They speak of freedom
Freedom and marching drums
Freedom and marching drums
Freedom and marching drumsWhen I miss you
I hear you speak to me

As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveI hear you speak to me
As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveI hear you speak to me
As you spoke to me
Saying come down let it be
Grains of sand will never be
Strong enough to make me leaveStrong enough to make me leave
