Finish What I Started

Will Butler

Someone please finish what I started
I tried my best, but my best was half hearted
Someone please, you can take the credit
I can leave, walk away and forget itI know what I want, what I wanted to say
But the words in my mouth, I just swallowed away
And the time I was wrong, and the weather was grey
And the feeling I felt, it had faded, it wasn't realSomeone please tell me what my name is
I wrote it down, but lost track of the paper
Someone please finish what I started
It's gettin' out, let me lay in the darknessI know what I want, what I wanted to say
But the words in my mouth, I just swallowed away
And the time I was wrong, and the weather was grey
And the feeling I felt hasn't faded, it's far too real
