

Albion (Intro) [Live]

Joe Bonamassa

There's a slow train coming
It's movin' on down the line
Steel wheels on iron rails
Tonight I'm fixin' to die
Woo, I hope you don't mind pretty mama
Woo-hoo, hope you don't mind if I go 'Cause when the steam from the slow train rises
I ain't gonna see you anymore There's a slow train coming
Coming right on time
Smokestacks and bottle lightning
This jumper on the line
Woo, I can't do without it anymore pretty mama
Yes, I can't do it without it anymore 'Cause when the steam from the slow train rises
I ain't gonna see you anymore There's a slow train coming
To march us home from war
With my leather boots and my haversack
Sure can take it no more
Woo, I cried for her baby when I saw you there
Woo-hoo, I cried for her just the same 'Cause when the steam from the slow train rises
I'm gonna cry for you just the same Well there's a slow train coming
Carrying the mighty worker hordes
Eighteen days in the cotton field
Enough to put a man out of ?
Woo, It's time to move on pretty mama
Woo-hoo, Yes it's time to move on as I go As the steam from my slow train rises
It's time for me to get on board

Songwriters

JOE BONAMASSA, KEVIN SHIRLEY Published by Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>