

Fable

Zavod

In a place, neither near nor far
In a time, neither now nor then
You were blind so open your eyes
'Cause shadows are closing in on you
And the angels sing
They say: Stay perfectly afraid
'Cause they will come one day
And bring hell to the weak
Don't fall behind, the wolf is on his hunt tonight with a hunger to kill. Won't go undone
He's out to get his kicks
To rally up the pigs
The story's been told for hundreds of years
and will be for a hundred years to come
It ends with a retribution
For us all to enjoy
And so it goes
'Til someone had enough
Angels won't sing no more
Don't be afraid again
You'll get revenge one day
Then bring them down on their knees
Your acts are justified
You let them push you around
In the end we all get what we deserve Always get what we ask for
The story's been told for hundreds of years
and will be for a hundred years to come
In our fable with a retribution
The end will be so goddamn beautiful
It's gonna be so beautiful
It's gonna be so goddamn beautiful
It's gonna be
It's gonna be so beautiful
It's gonna be, It's gonna be... well, you will see
