Tanager

Gem Club

i can feel the distance set in the slow lights of your eyes my head against your chest as the dust shot up so bright palms to the ground in search of something else the horses in my heart are chained i can hear your charms i can see them shining in violet veils turned down i watched this world stream out my love was golden throated a child with the sea inside him then dawn came and turned him silent until the spring sets in until we can begin and i had dreamed some that all our acts had come undone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/