

Not Good Enough

Joy Williams

Go on, look me in the eye
I'm all out of things to hide
Go on, reach into the dark
Go on, reach into the dark

Am I asking too much?
Are you all out of love?
If I set it on fire, burn it all up
When will we ever learn that perfect is just not good enough?

Don't you try to look away
Don't try to leave, try to stay
Go on, we've come so far
Go on, reach into the dark

Or am I asking too much?
Are you all out of love?
Did I set it on fire, burn it all up?
When will we ever learn that perfect is just not good enough?

Could you look right at my wrong?
Let the past be dead and gone

Or am I asking too much?
Are you all out of love?
Did I set it on fire, burn it all up?
When will we ever learn, oh
When will we ever learn that perfect is just not good enough?
