I'll Take the Blame

Ricky Skaggs

You say I've done you wrong,
I've wrecked our happy home.
We've tried so many times, we both know well.
Let's take another chance,
To renew an old romance.
And if we love each other, time will tell.Oh, I know, dear, what it means to live without you.
These lonely nights are drivin' me insane.
But before I'll hurt the one I love so dearly,
When people ask what's wrong, I'll take the blame.Instrumental break.Well, I know, dear, what it means to live without you.
These lonely nights are drivin' me insane.
But before I'll hurt the one I love so dearly,
When people ask what's wrong, I'll take the blame.
