Let's Be Still

The Head and the Heart

You can get lost in the music for hours, honey,
You can get lost in a room.
We can play music for hours and hours
But the sun'll still be coming up soonThe world's just spinning
A little too fast
If things don't slow down soon we might not last.
So just for the moment, let's be still.You can get lost in the music for hours, honey,
You can get lost in a room.
We can play music for hours and hours
But the sun'll still be coming up soon.The world's not forgiving
Of everyone's fears.
The days turn into months, the months turn into years.
So just for the moment, let's be stillThey're tearing down
So we can rebuild
And all this time
Is just circles in my mind
So just for a moment,
Just one moment,
Just for a moment let's be still
Just for a moment let's be still
Just for a moment let's be still
Just for a moment let's be still.Ain't no time left for me
It's got me seeing so clearly
Ain't no time for me, noThe world's just spinning
A little too fast
If things don't slow down soon we might not last.
The world's not forgiving
Of everyone's fears.
The days turn into months the months turn into years.
So just for a moment, let's be stillJust for a moment let's be still.
Just for a moment let's be still.
Just for a moment let's be still.
Just for a moment let's be still.Just for a moment let's be still.
Just for a moment let's be still.
