Knowledge = Priceless

Inhale Exhale

Im starting with chapter one, its so predictable
This story starts in the middle, the middle of the storm
And when the child wakes with sneers and sounds of laughter
The heart is overwhelmed and simply breaksEnough of wanting to lay down and die
It leaves a horrible taste inside, inside
With all thats left to come away with
Well see this to the end
With all thats left to come away with
Well see this to the endNow hope is here to stay and everyone agrees
With humble hearts they fall, they fall to their knees
And I remember why I came here in the first place
The absence of this love, it killed meEnough of wanting to lay down and die
It leaves a horrible taste inside, inside
With all thats left to come away with
Well see this to the end
With all thats left to come away with
Well live this to the endWith all thats left to come away with
Well see this to the end
With all thats left to come away with
Well see this to the endThis wont be the end
This wont be the end of it all
This wont be the end

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/