End of All Time

Stars of Track and Field

Imagine you could tear the world apart,
Lay it all out like a weather chart.
Take your time 'cause you're up against space,
Sweep up the tears running down your face.You burn bright when you're left alone,
Build up the speed to bring you home.
Turn off the lights and watch you glow!To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb over you.
To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb away.Light speed can't last for long,
see it backslide in the burning sun.
By the way I'd let you know,
the quiet way you peeled off when I let you go.
Turn off the lights and watch you glow!To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb over you.
To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb away.See the world with the faintest glow, she breaks apart with one final glow.
You answer this now and only hear us,
its the end of all time.To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb over you.
To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb away.To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb over you.
To the end of all time, just so I can see the light and climb away.
Over you
