

The Stars and Glitter

Seth Glier

Stand in line, shoot your cuffs
A gift for the wife, seat on the bus
Fill your bags with what you got
Ain't who you are but what you bought

Now step out to the gallows
Put a rope around your mind
You won't see the shadows in the darkest of skies
I will hide the shadows in the darkest of skies

A typical day, a two-faced smile
Can't cut your loss, you're the rank and file
Take your seat with the lost and bitter
And clap your hands at the stars and glitter

Now step out to the gallows
Put a rope around your mind
You won't see the shadows in the darkest of skies
I will hide the shadows in the darkest of skies

Marching falls, pension plans
Payin' no attention in the starving man
A plastic house, a bended knee
Savor the wine, and believe you're free
Now sign that line for slavery
Though you can't pay that loan
This corporate plantation gonna be a new found home

Now step out to the gallows
Put a rope around your mind
You won't see the shadows in the darkest of skies
I will hide the shadows in the darkest of skies

Stand in line, shoot your cuffs
A gift for the wife, seat on the bus
Fill your bags with what you got
Ain't who you are but what you bought.
