Drinkin' Bone

Done Again

Well it's Friday evenin' six O'clock
And all my friends are twistin' off
I'm at the house just turnin' on TV
Well, they all wonder why I've changed
How many times must I explain
It's basic honky tonk anatomy
The drinkin' bone's connected to the party bone
The party bone's connected to the stayin' out all night long
And she won't think it's funny and I'll wind up all alone
And the lonely bone's connected to the drinkin' bone
Hey, two plus two is always four
And down is south and up is north
And thirty-two degrees is freezing cold
You play with fire you end up burned
The early-bird gets the worm
But the only thing you really need to know
Is the drinkin' bone is connected to the party bone
The party bone's connected to the stayin' out all night long
And she won't think it's funny and I'll wind up all alone
And the lonely bone's connected to the drinkin' bone
Yeah, sing it with me
Let's make sure you know
The drinkin' bone's connected to the party bone
The party bone's connected to the stayin' out all night long
And she won't think it's funny and I'll wind up all alone
And the lonely bone's connected to the
The drinkin' bone's connected to the party bone
The party bone's connected to the stayin' out all night long
And she won't think it's funny and I'll wind up all alone
And the lonely bone's connected to the drinkin' bone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/