No Smile

I Blame Coco

Have you ever caught a smile
That you know you'd always love it?
See, even if it vomits bile
So you'd only miss itIt turns upside down and cries
And you just want to kiss it
I get the feeling from your eyes
No, no, this time you won't dismiss itFrom a seven storey building
I think of you
(Oh, oh, oh)
Obsessive minds like mine
Are speed dialing youAnd fragments of your face
Race around my lonely place
And I jump for youSo got no time to waste
'Cause I promised I would constantly love you
Until the day I die
I promised I would constantly love youUntil the end of time
Promised I would constantly love you
Until the day I die
I promised I would constantly love youI need you in sickness
I need you in health
I need you on my guest list
I need you by myselfSo be apart forever
So baby boy, you're mine
But nothing lasts forever
So instead I'll take my lifeGot no time to waste
'Cause there's no smile here
Got no time to waste
'Cause there's no smile here'Cause I promised I would constantly love you
Until the day I die
I promised I would constantly love you
Until the end of time
Promised I would constantly love you
Until the day I die
I promised I would constantly love youI love you but there's no smile here
I love you but there's no smile here
I love you but there's no smile here
I love you but there's no smileI love you but there's no smile here
I love you but there's no smile here
I love you but there's no smile here

No smile tomorrow'Cause I promised I would constantly love you
Until the day I die
I promised I would constantly love youUntil the end of time
Promised I would constantly love you
Until the day I die
I promised I would constantly love you
