Broken English (Demo)

Rise Against

Our buildings have fallen
Our walls all caved in,
And we can't comprehend this sad state
That we're in so we sift through the ashes
Of what we've become and surrender
Here one by one, so push us downAnd we get right back up again
The things you're telling me aren't making any sense
Right back up again
I'm sick of wishing for someone else to comeLet the blind lead the blind
'Cause it's eye for an eye in your so called life
Are you out there? are you listening?
Is there something we're still missing?
Let the blind lead the blind,
'Cause it's eye for an eye, we all fall downAnd we get right back up again,
The things you're telling me aren't making any sense
Right back up again
I'm sick of wishing for someone else to come
