Valhalla

Blind Guardian

High in the sky where eagles fly
Morgray, the dark enters the throne
Open wide the gate, friend
The King will comeBlow the horn and praise the highest Lord who'll bring the dawn
He's the new God in the palace of steel
Persuade the fate of everyone
The chaos can begin, let it inSo many centuries, so many Gods
We were the prisoners of our own fantasy
But now we are marching against these Gods
I'm the wizard, I will change it allValhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
Valhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten meValhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
Oh, ValhallaValhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
Valhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten meValhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
Oh, ValhallaMagic is in me, I'm the lost magic man
Never found what I was looking for
Now I found but it's lost, the fortress burns
Broken my heart, I leave this world
All Gods are goneSo many centuries, so many Gods
We were the prisoners of our own fantasy
But then we had nothing to lead our life
No, no, we can't live without GodsValhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
Valhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
ValhallaOh, ValhallaValhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
Valhalla, deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me
